

SANITATION SERVICES

The global COVID-19 pandemic has put hygiene and cleanliness into the spotlight more than ever before.

EnviroServ, a proudly South African company with more than 40 years' experience in the waste management industry, offers full sanitation services which follow World Health Organization and the US Centres for Disease Control COVID-19 protocols relating to the work methods and materials used for to clean surfaces. As the pandemic continues it is important that companies establish procedures to respond to a positive or suspected COVID-19 case in the workplace. Part of these procedures should be to establish in advance an appropriate company to provide sanitisation services.

ATTRIBUTES

- Hazmat personnel, trained to work in hazardous environments and to deal with COVID-19, provide sanitation and cleaning services.
- Hazmat personnel use appropriate personnel protective clothing during cleaning operations.
- All wastes generated in the process are collected and removed for compliant safe disposal.

BENEFITS

- We provide sanitation and cleaning services to companies either returning to operation after the lockdown, or following confirmation of a COVID-19 positive case on site.
- EnviroServ can be engaged to be on standby in the event of confirmed cases at our customers as part of emergency response protocols.
- We can provide a record of what areas and surfaces were cleaned should proof of work done be required.
- We have people standing by to quote our services quickly and effortlessly.
