For over 37 years EnviroServ has been a pioneer in the South African waste management industry, safely and effectively handling the transport and long-term disposal of waste throughout the country. It is our privilege and duty to ensure your peace of mind when it comes to safe waste disposal, and also to minimise the associated environmental risks.

As you will be aware, in terms of Regulation 8 of the Waste Classification and Management Regulations, waste must be assessed in accordance with the Norms and Standards for Assessment of Waste for Landfill Disposal. Accordingly, all analyses of the total concentration and leach concentration of risk elements and chemical substances in waste must be conducted by laboratories accredited by the South African National Accreditation System (SANAS) which certifies them as approved to conduct the particular techniques and analysis methods required.

We are pleased to inform you that EnviroServ's Meadowdale laboratory, which was the first SANAS accredited waste testing facility in South Africa, has successfully worked through all of the ISO 17025 standard requirements to once again achieve accreditation. EnviroServ's accredited laboratory provides formal recognition of competence and a means for industry and authorities to identify and select reliable testing.

Our Meadowdale laboratory provides an analytical service to all of EnviroServ's regional laboratories in the Western Cape, KwaZulu-Natal and Eastern Cape. EnviroServ's Meadowdale accredited testing laboratory helps to minimise technical barriers and reduce the safety, health and environmental risks to both industry and regulatory authorities.

You may wonder why EnviroServ is so confident about our quality system. The answer to this question lies in having a successful quality system which seems natural to the user. Our system has been set up so that while there are procedures, documentation and calibrations, these are straightforward and not too overwhelming or onerous. The procedures make sense because laboratory personnel know why every step is necessary and understand the significance of the results to the customer and authorities.

EnviroServ makes it our purpose to capture the possibilities and vanquish the challenges in order to deliver environmental peace of mind for our customers.
