Pretoria, August 1, 2018 - EnviroServ's Rosslyn landfill site is to begin accepting waste again from 1 August 2018, bringing welcome relief - and certainty - to the people of Pretoria and especially those in the northern suburbs.

Rosslyn's acceptance of waste will immediately provide the capacity to handle up to 50,000 ton of light industrial and domestic waste per month.

Rosslyn is well positioned for household waste from the capital's northern suburbs. The site will only be accepting general waste, but the possibility exists to extend its capacity to expand recycling initiatives, including gas extraction and green waste composting.

The recommissioning of Rosslyn will allow EnviroServ to provide a service to the Tshwane area and generate employment for between 100 and 150 local people to handle the onsite reclamation of recyclables.

"EnviroServ has been in business for almost 40 years and we have played a major role in Gauteng, bringing our expertise to bear when it comes to turnkey waste management solutions," said EnviroServ spokesman Thabiso Taaka.

"We are overjoyed to be able to accept waste at Rosslyn again to meet the needs of our capital city and to serve the people of Pretoria," he said.
