VACANCY

Job Title	Laboratory Analyst	Job Reference Number	EUL/OPS/16
Department	Operations	Closing Date	13 March 2023
Location	Nyamsoga
Direct Manager	Laboratory Manager
Joh Burnoso	To undertake a broad range of specialist chemistry, environmental, and plant

Direct Manager Laboratory Manager
Educational Qualifications Relevant tertiary qualification in Chemistry. Relevant tertiary qualification in Chemistry. Three years of Laboratory experience including experience in the operation and maintenance of specialized analytical instruments like ICP-OES, GC/MS, or any other kind of laboratory equipment. Accurate analyses of samples Deliver results at the end of the shift Conform to the quality management system Report discrepancies in samples to the Lab Keep, control, and maintenance of specialized equipment To perform analyses using authorized test methods and procedures.* Follow ISO 17025:2017 quality system requirements.* To produce and record traceable, verifiable, analytical results and other relevant data. To immediately report results that exceed laid down limits to the Senior Laboratory Analyst. To identify any departures from the quality policy or procedures of the laboratory and to initiate actions to eliminate, prevent or minimize such departures. To provide lab test reports to the Senior Technical Officer or Regional Operations Manager. To be familiar with the latest applicable technology developments. To provide training and conversely, undergo training, as required. To maintain quality and safety standards as well as tidiness in the laboratory. To perform relevant administrative duties in respect of samples, stocks, and reports. Laboratory analysts working with specialized analytical instruments like ICP-OES, GC/MS, or other specialized equipment are required to be trained and deemed competent in the use of specialized equipment. Laboratory analysts will be required to have been deemed competent in the use of specialized equipment. Laboratory procedure. Satisfactory participation in inter-laboratory proficiency testing schemes shall be one of the activities the laboratory analyst proficiency testing schemes shall be one of the activities the laboratory analyst proficiency testing schemes shall be one of the activities the laboratory analyst proficien	Direct Manager	Laboratory Manager
Relevant tertiary qualification in Chemistry. Three years of Laboratory experience including experience in the operation and maintenance of specialized analytical instruments like ICP-OES, GC/MS, or any other kind of laboratory equipment. Accurate analyses of samples Deliver results at the end of the shift Conform to the quality management system Report discrepancies in samples to the Lab Keep, control, and maintain records of all samples and analysis Operation and maintenance of specialized equipment To perform analyses using authorized test methods and procedures. Follow ISO 17025:2017 quality system requirements. To produce and record traceable, verifiable, analytical results and other relevant data. To immediately report results that exceed laid down limits to the Senior Laboratory Analyst. To identify any departures from the quality policy or procedures of the laboratory and to initiate actions to eliminate, prevent or minimize such departures. To provide lab test reports to the Senior Technical Officer or Regional Operations Manager. To be familiar with the latest applicable technology developments. To provide training and conversely, undergo training, as required. To maintain quality and safety standards as well as tidiness in the laboratory. To perform relevant administrative duties in respect of samples, stocks, and reports. To adhere to current policies and regulations. Laboratory analysts will be required to thave been deemed competent in the use of specialized equipment. Laboratory analysts will be required to have been deemed competent in the use of specialized analytical instruments like ICP-OES, GC/MS, or other specialized equipment. Laboratory analysts will be required to have been deemed competent in the use of specialized equipment.	Job Purpose maintenance of specialized analytical instruments like ICP-OES, GC/MS, or any other kind of laboratory equipment. Accurate analyses of samples Deliver results at the end of the shift Conform to the quality management system Report discrepancies in samples to the Lab Keep, control, and maintain records of all samples and analysis Operation and maintenance of specialized equipment To perform analyses using authorized test methods and procedures. Follow ISO 17025:2017 quality system requirements. To produce and record traceable, verifiable, analytical results and other relevant data. To immediately report results that exceed laid down limits to the Senior Laboratory Analyst. To identify any departures from the quality policy or procedures of the laboratory and to initiate actions to eliminate, prevent or minimize such departures. To provide lab test reports to the Senior Technical Officer or Regional Operations Manager. To be familiar with the latest applicable technology developments. To be familiar with the latest applicable technology developments. To perform relevant administrative duties in respect of samples, stocks, and reports. To adhere to current policies and regulations. Laboratory analysts working with specialized analytical instruments like ICP-OES, GC/MS, or other specialized equipment are required to be trained and deemed competent in the use of specialized equipment. Laboratory analysts will be required to have been deemed competent in the use of specialized analytical instruments like ICP-OES, GC/MS, or other specialized equipment. Laboratory analysts will be required to have been deemed competent in the use of specialized equipment. Laboratory their laboratory manager using the competency criteria as set out in the competency analysts.		Relevant tertiary qualification in Chemistry.
Rey Performance Areas Report discrepancies in samples to the Lab Keep, control, and maintain records of all samples and analysis Operation and maintain records of all samples and analysis Operation and maintenance of specialized equipment To perform analyses using authorized test methods and procedures. Follow ISO 17025:2017 quality system requirements. To produce and record traceable, verifiable, analytical results and other relevant data. To immediately report results that exceed laid down limits to the Senior Laboratory Analyst. To identify any departures from the quality policy or procedures of the laboratory and to initiate actions to eliminate, prevent or minimize such departures. To provide lab test reports to the Senior Technical Officer or Regional Operations Manager. To be familiar with the latest applicable technology developments. To provide training and conversely, undergo training, as required. To maintain quality and safety standards as well as tidiness in the laboratory. To perform relevant administrative duties in respect of samples, stocks, and reports. To adhere to current policies and regulations. Laboratory analysts working with specialized analytical instruments like ICP-OES, GC/MS, or other specialized equipment. Laboratory analysts will be required to have been deemed competent in the use of specialized equipments like ICP-OES, GC/MS, or other specialized equipments like ICP-OES, GC/MS, or other specialized equipment by their laboratory manager using the competency criteria as set out in the competency procedure. Satisfactory participation in inter-laboratory proficiency testing schemes shall be one of the activities the laboratory analyst	-	maintenance of specialized analytical instruments like ICP-OES, GC/MS, or any
 Follow ISO 17025:2017 quality system requirements. To produce and record traceable, verifiable, analytical results and other relevant data. To immediately report results that exceed laid down limits to the Senior Laboratory Analyst. To identify any departures from the quality policy or procedures of the laboratory and to initiate actions to eliminate, prevent or minimize such departures. To provide lab test reports to the Senior Technical Officer or Regional Operations Manager. To be familiar with the latest applicable technology developments. To provide training and conversely, undergo training, as required. To maintain quality and safety standards as well as tidiness in the laboratory. To perform relevant administrative duties in respect of samples, stocks, and reports. To adhere to current policies and regulations. Laboratory analysts working with specialized analytical instruments like ICP-OES, GC/MS, or other specialized equipment. Laboratory analysts will be required to have been deemed competent in the use of specialized analytical instruments like ICP-OES, GC/MS, or other specialized equipment by their laboratory manager using the competency criteria as set out in the competency procedure. Satisfactory participation in inter-laboratory proficiency testing schemes shall be one of the activities the laboratory analyst 		 Deliver results at the end of the shift Conform to the quality management system Report discrepancies in samples to the Lab Keep, control, and maintain records of all samples and analysis
Annlying Expertise and Technology	•	 Follow ISO 17025:2017 quality system requirements. To produce and record traceable, verifiable, analytical results and other relevant data. To immediately report results that exceed laid down limits to the Senior Laboratory Analyst. To identify any departures from the quality policy or procedures of the laboratory and to initiate actions to eliminate, prevent or minimize such departures. To provide lab test reports to the Senior Technical Officer or Regional Operations Manager. To be familiar with the latest applicable technology developments. To provide training and conversely, undergo training, as required. To maintain quality and safety standards as well as tidiness in the laboratory. To perform relevant administrative duties in respect of samples, stocks, and reports. To adhere to current policies and regulations. Laboratory analysts working with specialized analytical instruments like ICP-OES, GC/MS, or other specialized equipment. Laboratory analysts will be required to have been deemed competent in the use of specialized analytical instruments like ICP-OES, GC/MS, or other specialized equipment by their laboratory manager using the competency criteria as set out in the competency procedure. Satisfactory participation in inter-laboratory proficiency testing schemes shall be one of the activities the laboratory analyst shall perform to deem him/her competent.
Applying Expertise and Technology
, ipp.,, D = po a collitology		Interpretation of analytical data

Writing and Reporting Delivering Results and Meeting Customer Expectations

- Relating and Networking Presenting and Communicating Information
- Key Competencies
 - Adhering to Principles and Values

Interpretation of analytical data

- Working with People Following Instructions and Procedures
- Creating and Innovating

- Planning and Organizing
- Cite "position reference" in your application.
- Applicants are required to submit a detailed curriculum vitae and motivational letter to:recruitment@enviroserv.co.ug
- To be considered for this vacancy, applicants are required to meet the minimum inherent requirements of the position as advertised.
- Location is only indicative and may be changed dependent on operational requirements.
- Applications received after the closing date will not be considered.

Should the applicant not receive a response within 30 days of the advert closing date, they should consider their application unsuccessful.

